CLEVELAND (AP) — Negotiations reached agreement today on the major issues of a new contract between Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. and the United Rubber Workers Union. A joint announcement said the master contract and a supplemental unemployment benefit plan have been settled.

Only the drafting of contract language remains for a new pension and insurance plan. Goodyear is the only company of the industry's "Big Four" which has not been struck.

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — The United Rubber Workers Union today struck the B. F. Goodrich Co. and Firestone Tire & Rubber Co., bringing to about 58,000 the number of production workers out in the union's biggest strike.

Only the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. among the tire-building industry's Big Four continued in operation. When Goodyear's contract with the union expired last midnight, some progress had been made, and bargaining covering 21,000 workers was recessed until today.

The other member of the Big Four, the United States Rubber Co., was struck by the URW last Thursday. About 20,000 production workers walked out then. Today's strikes added 18,000 production workers at Firestone and 14,000 at Goodrich to the strike.

This is the first time the union has undertaken strikes against three of the Big Four at the same time. The last major walkout in the industry was in 1946.

Methodists Plan New Building

A PRE-CONFERENCE meeting last night with representatives of all departments resulted in approval of plans to construct a new First Methodist Church building. A general conference will be held tonight to present the adopted plans to the congregation for acceptance.

Arkansas will lose about $250,000 in taxes next year because of a recent state Supreme Court ruling.

The high court ruled in a Kansas City Southern Railroad case that the Arkansas Assessment Co-ordination Department could not take plant additions and current liabilities into account in determining tax assessments.

Other railroads and utilities which had not protested assessment of plant additions and current liabilities can be expected to now, the department said yesterday.

Russell Morton, department attorney, said the $250,000 estimate was conservative. "It probably will be higher when we revise our assessment formulas," he said.

Morton said the ruling Monday came as a surprise to the department because in July, 1951, the court upheld the inclusion of plant additions and current liabilities in assessment formulas.

"We intend to point this out to the court," Morton said. "We don't understand the reason for the change."

Morton said that on a basis of preliminary surveys of 1950 assessment figures furnished by utilities, the change would lop about 22 million dollars from assessments.

The department tried to interest the 1950 General Assembly in passing a law to permit inclusion of plant additions and current liabilities in the formula but that legislation was rejected.

The Department of Commerce has adopted a new employee award program and under this program Miss Ida J. Logan, the official weather observer at Fulton, has received a 15-year award for valuable contribution to the climatological records for your community.

The award was presented by Gilbert E. Stegall, supervisor.

Housing Bill Fails to Come to Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Rules Committee refused today to permit the House to vote on a multibillion-dollar housing bill.

By a 6-4 tie vote, the committee pinochled the administration-opposed measure. Chairman Howard Smith (D-Va.) said, "Your guess is as good as mine" as to its future.

Smith told lawmakers he has no plans for another meeting for the committee to consider sending the bill to the House.

The vote was reported to have had four Republican members and two Democrats lined up against the bill, and six Democrats voting for it.

Smith and Rep. William M. Colmer of Mississippi, Southern conservatives who have opposed housing legislation in the past, were the two Democrats reported to have joined Republicans Clarence Brown (Ohio), Leo E. Allen (Ill.) Hamer H. Budge (Idaho) and Carroll Reece (Tenn.) in voting against the bill.

College Seeks Land From Plant Site

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The board of trustees of Little Rock University will ask the federal government for 3,000 acres of land around the industrial area of the idle Maumelle Ordnance Works near here.

The land is a "buffer zone" around the Maumelle plant which has been declared surplus by the Army.

Dr. Cary V. Stabler, president of LRU, said in announcing the board's decision yesterday that the land would be used as a university biological station. Long-range plans include establishment of a fish farm experimental station, he added.

Deadline for applications on the land is Monday.

Stabler said that if LRU made a successful bid, it would have to agree to use the property for 10 years. The land would be a grant from the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare and would cost the university nothing.

Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. wants to buy the manufacturing facilities at Maumelle and some other chemical concerns have shown interest in them. The General Services Administration will seek bids on the plant June 28 and a tentative date of Sept. 29 has been set for opening of these bids.

Negro Civic Leaders Name New Officers

Newly elected officials of the Negro Civic Improvement Association were installed Tuesday night in the Harris Gymnasium of Yenger High School by the Rev. J. W. Walker, former president.

Some 60 civic-minded citizens were favored with songs by the Gospel Airs, a poem by Shirley Hicks — "I Want To Live So I Can Face Myself" — and the inauguration of officers.

Mr. Walker presented and spelled out the duties of the following officers: Harvey L. Washington, president; George Smith, Jr., vice president; Mrs. Fannie Buchanan, secretary; Mrs. Nannie Washington, assistant secretary; Grant Davenport, treasurer; and Rogers Hicks, assistant treasurer.

Mr. Washington, the president, gave his inaugural address. He spoke on "A New Day and What We Plan To Do With It." He began his talk by giving some background information on the history and purpose of the organization.

He said that the Civic Improvement Association is a non-profit organization and its primary purpose is to provide a more wholesome community for better living. This better living includes better streets, better housing, better community service, better unity, and last, but not least, to provide more wholesome recreation for the youth of our city.

"This new day we find ourselves in must set a new standard in our lives. We find as we look about us, a great task, and only we — you and I — can and will do anything about it." He further stated that lines can not be drawn when it comes to social standing or morals. If we hope to achieve our objective.

Funds for U. S. Aid to School Recommended

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House Education subcommittee today recommended a four-year $4,400,000 program of federal aid for school construction and teachers' salaries.

The bill it approved would provide outright grants to the states annually of $25 for each school-age child. This was estimated to cost $1,100,000,000 a year.

Rep. Cleveland Bailey (D-W.Va.) subcommittee chairman, said he would present the measure to the full Education Committee at its meeting next Thursday. He said he would hesitate to predict its chances of passage by Congress until he sees what happens in the full committee.

The subcommittee approved the bill on a party line vote of 4-2. The two Republican members voted against it.

Rep. Peter Frelinghuysen (R-N.J.) told reporters "It is inconceivable that legislation of this kind can fairly be enacted, and I say that as a longtime proponent of a reasonable program."

Frelinghuysen called the provision to help teachers' salaries particularly inadvisable.

States would be given the choice of how they wanted to spend the money — on classroom construction, teachers' salaries, or both.

The subcommittee bill is a scaled down version of one introduced by Rep. Lee Metcalf (D-Mont.). It originally called for grants starting at $25 per child the first year and going up to $100 a child in the fourth year and thereafter with the program to continue indefinitely.

Rep. Frank Thompson Jr. (D-N.J.) predicted the bill would get the support "of all who recognize the importance of education in our national life."

Seek Funds for Arkansas Center

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. F. Norrell (D-Ark.) and an Arkansas official go before a House Appropriation Subcommittee today to ask approval of a one million dollar appropriation for a proposed vocational rehabilitation center at Hot Springs, Ark.

Norrell and Don W. Russell of Little Rock, director of the Arkansas Vocational Rehabilitation Service, planned to ask the subcommittee to add the appropriation to the budget.

The proposed regional rehabilitation center would be established at Army-Navy Hospital in Hot Springs.

If Congress approves the appropriation for the 1959-60 fiscal year, the Army and the Department of Interior would be asked to turn the 30 million dollar hospital over to the state for operation as a rehabilitation center.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus has signed a bill appropriating $200,000 in state funds to operate the center if the hospital is turned over to the state.

The Army has been trying to close the big hospital for years, contending it is surplus. But Arkansas congressmen have kept it open.

The Department of Interior owns the 24-acre hospital site.

Alford Turns Rights Meet Into Debate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Dale Alford (D-Ark.) turned a civil rights hearing into a debate on the question of state vs. federal authority yesterday.

Alford, testifying before a House Judiciary subcommittee considering various civil rights bills, touched off the discussion by arguing that a nation's ultimate authority lies with the people.

He defined current controversy over civil rights as a battle between the sovereign people and the usurpers and "bath-breakers."

Chairman Emanuel Celler (D-N.Y.) asked Alford under what authority a state could declare federal laws null and void. Alford replied that the Constitution guarantees a state's sovereign rights. Celler criticized this answer.

Rep. William McCulloch (R-Ohio) took up the argument against the federal government's pressing the point that any unreviewed decision of the Supreme Court was the law of the land.

"The Supreme Court doesn't make the law of the land," Alford said. "It is a dangerous thing for the opinion of nine men to be considered the law of the land."

Alford, a segregationist who deflected Brooks Hays, a civil rights moderate, said Arkansas should be complimented for upholding an American tradition in its fight against integration.

Says Rights Law Is Unconstitutional

MADISON, Ga. (AP) — A federal judge today declared unconstitutional a section of the 1957 Civil Rights Act permitting the U.S. attorney general to seek injunctions against violation of voting rights.

U.S. Dist. Judge T. Hoyt Davis granted a motion of Terrell County to dismiss a suit brought against them by the Justice Department claiming they had denied Negro citizens the right to register and vote.

The Justice Department said the decision will be appealed.

Davis held that the 1957 law exceeded the jurisdiction of Congress.

He did not rule on the issue of the violations complained of, but held that the law itself was invalid and could not be the basis of such a court action.

The injunction petition was brought by Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers last Sept. 4 against Terrell registrars James Chigass Raines, Dixon Oxford and George Radford, and F. Lawson Cook Sr., deputy registrars.

President Again Consults Dulles About Successor

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH, AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower today conferred with hospitalized John Foster Dulles regarding selection of a new secretary of state.

Dulles, who resigned from the State Department job Wednesday because of cancer, also talked by telephone with Eisenhower that night about a successor.

The President continued to defer announcement of a successor, but Undersecretary of State Christian A. Herter was reported after the Eisenhower-Dulles talks to still have the inside track.

Dulles talked to Eisenhower from his room at Walter Reed Army Hospital in Washington. Eisenhower was at his vacation cottage at the Augusta National Golf Club.

After today's talk, the White House announced Eisenhower's formal acceptance of Dulles' resignation. It made public an exchange of letters between the President and the retiring secretary.

Eisenhower reiterated his warm affection for the 71-year-old Dulles.

"You have been a staunch bulwark of our nation against the machinations of Imperialistic communism. You have won to the side of the free world countless people and inspired in them renewed courage and determination to fight for freedom and principle," Eisenhower wrote.

"As a statesman of world stature you have set a record in the stewardship of our foreign relations that stands clear and strong for all to see."

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH, AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower was reported today to be still focusing mainly on Christian A. Herter to succeed John Foster Dulles as secretary of state.

But aides of the vacationing Eisenhower said it may be a few days before the announcement. Aides of Herter, now the Undersecretary of the Cabinet, said he was not in the Cabinet post from which Dulles resigned Wednesday because of cancer.

Herter, who has been acting secretary since Dulles became ill early in February, still was given the inside track for the top job in most speculation.

At a news conference where he announced Dulles' resignation, the President said there are several persons in government — "at least a few" — with particular talent for the No. 1 State Department post.

He made that statement when a reporter remarked it had been taken pretty much for granted he would replace Herter, 64-year-old former member of the House of Representatives and onetime governor of Massachusetts.

Eisenhower said he didn't want to imply approval or rejection of any individual. He added he wanted to consult first with Dulles regarding a successor.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said later that the President undoubtedly would consult with Herter and Vice President Nixon — and quite likely others.

The predictions are that those conferences may not be completed for a few days. And it is likely that Dulles' formal letter of resignation and Eisenhower's reply will be made public by the White House in advance of an announcement of a new secretary.

Aides said one reason Eisenhower didn't couple his own disclosure of the resignation with an immediate nomination of a successor was that he wanted no diversion of public attention from his warm tribute to the cancer-stricken official.

The President praised Dulles, 71, as a man of tremendous character, courage and wisdom. Eisenhower had a real struggle with his emotions in speaking of his regret that grave illness had incapacitated his close personal friend.

Union Rejects Plan to Freeze Steel Prices

NEW YORK (AP) — A union proposal that steel prices be frozen has been rejected by the nation's 12 largest steel companies.

The companies told the United Steelworkers of America that "it would be completely unworkable for the steel companies to agree among themselves or with your union on the prices to be charged for steel products."

The union contends a price freeze in the industry would not violate federal anti-trust laws.

In a letter to Union President David J. McDonald Wednesday, the companies also turned down a proposal that they increase wages and other benefits in a new contract on the basis of output per man-hour and profits.

The companies, however, agreed to the union proposal that contract negotiations start May 14 instead of May 18 as scheduled. The letter told the union: "Our bargaining team is prepared to meet with yours at any time."

The current contract, covering half a million workers in the industry, expires June 30.

The 12 companies renegotiated wages in the industry for another year. The union has turned down this proposal, contending that wage increases and other contract benefits are justified by the industry's profit position and the national economic situation.

The industry involved a 52-day strike against Goodrich in 1954, which that strike extended also to the last two weeks.

Wages were not an issue. Pension, insurance and supplemental benefits were among the matters being discussed in a new contract. Neither side has disclosed demands, offers or key points on which the bargaining deadlocked. Here, where Goodrich employs about 7,000 and Firestone 6,550, picketing was peaceful. Some of the workers were kept out of the Goodrich plant for a while, but later were allowed to enter.

L. S. Buckmaster, international president of the URW, is participating in Goodrich negotiations in Cleveland. He declined to comment on those talks, and said he was not able to discuss what happened to cause the breakdown of the Firestone and Goodrich negotiations.

Firestone issued a statement saying the URW walked out after the union tentatively accepted from another company substantially the same terms we had offered. A union spokesman said the Firestone statement "just is not so."

Goodrich negotiations were conducted in Canton, Ohio, and the

Blames Rights Struggle on Communism

WASHINGTON (AP) — The struggle over proposed civil rights legislation "is but one facet of the ever-present, underlying Communist plan to divide and conquer," Gov. Ernest Vandiver of Georgia said today.

Vandiver's remark came in a statement prepared for a House Judiciary subcommittee in opposition to pending civil rights proposals.

The Georgia governor said he would leave a discussion of the legal technicalities in V. L. C. to Charles J. Bloch, Macon, Ga., attorney.

"Rather, it shall be my purpose to convey to you in very general terms some of the anxiety which is held by the people of Georgia regarding the harsh nature of some of these so-called civil rights proposals," Vandiver said.

He said the national should settle its internal conflicts through faith and hard work within the framework of state authority and conditions and practicalities as they actually exist, not as we would fancy them to be.

Vandiver said: "We cannot find these answers by destroying the reserved rights of the several states and by concentrating more and more governmental power in Washington.

The Georgia governor said the three major civil rights proposals now pending in Congress "are all negative in their fundamental aspects."

He said, "they seek to suppress symptoms by intimidation instead of offering concrete programs of tangible benefit designed to solve the problems which exist in like measure all over this land of ours."

"Rights cannot be secured where power is granted to commit an injustice in the name of justice."

"Rights cannot be secured by a government of men or through the naked force of the unbridled bayonet or the butt of a rifle."

Vandiver said "Georgians of both races have shown good judgment in not falling victim to the siren songs of extremist agitators."

"We are making progress. Free of meddling and outside interference, it will continue."

Brazilian police had declared Douglas an undesirable alien and rushed him away to beat court action on a request by his lawyer seeking his release from custody.

On arrival in Miami, Douglas will be subject to arrest on Oklahoma charges he stole cattle at the town of Sugar, Okla., and federal charges he transported the

DOROTHY DIX

Multi-Level Family Splits on Children

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: Both my husband and I had been married and divorced before our marriage two years ago. He had three boys by his first wife and I had a daughter by my former husband. Now we have a boy of our own making five children in all. The kids, however, don't provide our major trouble. We live with my in-laws who cause continual dissension. There is jealousy among the children, although I could cope with that, and trouble with my husband over my daughter. She receives $30 a month from her father for support. I pay her medical and dental bills, school expenses, and buy her clothes. My husband feels I should contribute toward the milk bill and other food costs. I resent it. I won't permit him to spend a cent on her birthday or Christmas presents because of his attitude, but maybe that's carrying it to extremes. F. C.

DEAR F. C.: Let's get right down to dollars and cents. How much does your husband pay you for the taking care of his three boys? It would seem to me that the wash, iron, ironing, cooking, dressing, hair, etc., would more than pay for your daughter's expenses. As long as he insists on receiving pay for feeding her, do that likewise. Instead of buying presents from him for your girl, you should insist on them. All youngsters in this multi-level family should be treated alike. This is a big mistake. You have the promise when you married and it should be the father and mother, of the law now. Incidentally, things would be much smoother if you could get a home of your own. The situation is complicated enough without adding another generation to mess things up. You've done a fine job to keep things as peaceful as they are.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: We are two desperate girls in search of an answer. Our very close friend, Paul, is 14 and has very strict parents. They refuse her many of the privileges that other girls her age have. She's not permitted to attend parties and has been told that she won't be allowed to do these things until she's 16. She can't discuss the problem with her mother, who refuses to listen. J. AND J. JOAN

DEAR J. AND J.: Many parents are similarly panicked over teen-age daughters. Every story they read about juvenile delinquency strikes them with a thud. This could be my child. Over-strictness is as bad as overindulgence. However, and they should strive for a happy by medium. Paul's parents would be reassured by reading a book on understanding the adolescent. Signs of maturity, self-addressed envelopes, toilet and perhaps Paul could get it into the right hands.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I work practically engaged to a Navy man who had been away for most of three years. I often called his mother on the phone and when it was inconvenient to tell her the truth, I lied. My boy friend caught me in a few of these lies and eventually discovered that I had been lying. I habitually lie now and won't even write my mother a line when I call him. I'd like to win him back just to spite his mother. ANNIE

DEAR ANNIE: And help from me you most certainly will not get. This boy is giving his love efforts to reach him. Will be in vain. After all, knowing you're a liar, how could he ever trust you with anything? Might as well give up, Annie.

Yanks Crowding in on First Plcae as Usual

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The inevitable is getting a bit closer in the American League pennant chase. The world champion New York Yankees are crowding in on first place — and they might be there now except for Woody Held, a kid Manager Casey Stengel reluctantly traded away.

Held, now 27, was an infielder-outfielder, a guy ready made for Casey's multiple-defensive schemes, and showed promise of power. He had led to Cleveland last season in hitting nothing but homers at the moment.

His third hit in 17 at bats this year was his third home run (good for seven runs) in two days and beat winless Detroit 2-1 in 10 innings Wednesday. It also kept the Indians unbeaten through four games and pushed them into first place, half a game ahead of the Yankees.

The champs stopped only by rain so far, won their third 3-1 at Baltimore Wednesday night on Bobby Richardson's two-out, two-run double in the ninth. That jumped the Yankees past the Chicago White Sox, who were bombed off their unbeaten kick 10-3 by Kansas City and slipped to third. Boston defeated Washington 7-3.

In the National League, second-place San Francisco hammered the Chicago Cubs 7-1. Cincinnati kept Pittsburgh winless 10-3, and Los Angeles beat St. Louis 5-0.

Right-hander Cal McLish took the decision for Cleveland, giving up nine hits. He had a shutout until the eighth inning, when Edie Yost singled and Larry Doby tripled.

A walk and Andy Carey's single set up Richardson's winning hit for the Yankees off losing reliever Jack Harshman (0-2).

The A's winning their first.

Moody Quits Team on Order of Doctor

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — University of Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles said today that All-Southwest Conference halfback Jim Moody has quit the football team on orders from a team doctor.

Broyles said Moody has been suffering dizziness spells and headaches in spring practice and the doctor advised him to give up athletics.

Moody is a senior and a two-year letterman. He played in only four conference games last year but was named to the All-SWC team.

Broyles said Moody had the headaches and dizzy spells after contact work last spring and last fall. "They've been getting worse," he added. The coach said doctors do not believe Moody is in any danger.

Moody quit the team after the Baylor game last year, then, asked to be reinstated. The team voted to readmit him. He missed the Texas Christian and Rice games.

The Razorbacks opened spring practice this week.

Antonelli and Drysdale Back in Business

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Don Drysdale and Johnny Antonelli, a pair of young aces who went a long way to go nowhere last season, are back in business again, flashing some of the old sparkle.

It was Drysdale, a 22-year-old right-hander, who won 17 as a National League sophomore and went West with the transplanted Dodgers last season boomed, as the star of the Los Angeles staff. Instead, he went wild and wound up with a 12-13 record.

Antonelli, a 27-year-old southpaw who twice has been a 20-game winner, didn't have it quite so bad when the Giants shifted to San Francisco. But his 16-13 record wasn't exactly what he had been counted on to deliver.

Wednesday night, things were different. Antonelli gave up a run on three singles in the first inning, then blanked the Chicago Cubs on two hits the rest of the way for a 7-1 victory, his second. That left the Giants, who got a pair of homers from Orlando Cepeda and another from Felipe Alou, with a 4-1 record in second place.

Drysdale gave up eight hits, but no runs at all, squaring his record at 1-1 with his first complete game as the Dodgers beat St. Louis 5-0.

Milwaukee's first-place Braves (3-0) were idle, along with Phillies. Defense lawyers said any appeal by handing winless Pittsburgh a fifth defeat, 10-5.

In the American League, Cleveland took first place with a 2-1, 10-inning victory over winless Detroit. Kansas City handed the Chicago White Sox their first loss 10-8. The New York Yankees defeated Baltimore 3-1. Boston rapped Washington 7-3.

Broyles Says Porks Aren't Hitting Hard

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Coach Frank Broyles complained again yesterday that his Arkansas Razorbacks aren't hitting the way he wants them to.

"Maybe it's just they're sore from Monday's opening session," Broyles said. He complained about lack of hard hitting after the Hogs initiated spring drills with a rousing 2 1/2 hour session Monday.

Broyles worked his charges another 2 1/2 hours yesterday, sticking mainly to fundamentals. The White unit, composed of last year's B-teamers, beat the Orange unit — last year's freshmen — three touchdowns to none in a goal-line scrimmage session.

Broyles had film made of part of yesterday's workout. The film will be evaluated and results used in today's practice.

made seven of their nine hits, good for extra bases at Chicago. Right-hander Bob Grim (1-1) won it, chipping in with his first grand slam homer in a five-run third.

Right-hander Jerry Casale won his first in the majors in his first start for the Red Sox, beating the Senators with a seven-hitter and socking a wrap-up, three-run homer over the faraway left-center field wall in Fenway Park. Russ Kemmerer lost it.

Woman Guilty in Slaying of Lover

By DON REEDER
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Connie Nicholas was convicted today of voluntary manslaughter, killing in the heat of passion in the love slaying of her rich, married lover.

The conviction calls for a mandatory 2-to-21-year prison term. It is the "highest" verdict she could have received, except acquittal.

Mrs. Nicholas, 45, clad in black, stood erect and showed no emotion when the verdict was read. She will be sentenced later today. She will be eligible for parole in 21 months.

Defense attorneys said any appeal of the sentence would have to be initiated by Mrs. Nicholas.

The tiny prisoner—5 feet 1 and weighing 105 pounds—declined to discuss the verdict.

This was a complete about-face from her demeanor during the trial, which started exactly a month ago today. Then, she talked freely and at one time was admonished by her attorneys to keep quiet.

Even while the jury deliberated Wednesday night, Mrs. Nicholas told reporters she still loved her 54-year-old playboy paramour, Forrest Teel, 54, a drug firm executive.

The jury debated approximately nine hours, with an hour and a half off for dinner, before agreeing on a verdict. Russell Cole, the jury foreman, said "There were more than 10 ballots before we reached the verdict."

He added that at first there were votes ranging from acquittal to first-degree murder, but at no time did any of the jurors mention sending the part Mrs. Nicholas to the electric chair.

The prosecution, which did not ask the death penalty in its summation, termed the manslaughter verdict "fair and just."

The monthlong trial reached a dramatic peak when Mrs. Nicholas took the stand to tell of the 15-year off-limits affair that ended with the fatal shooting of Teel.

On the night of the shooting Mrs. Nicholas found Teel's white Cadillac parked near the apartment of auburn-haired Laura Mowrer, the drug executive's beautiful new girl friend.

She waited three hours until Teel came out at Miss Mowrer's apartment shortly after midnight. Then in an argument that followed, said Mrs. Nicholas, Teel grabbed her arm and her small pearl-handled revolver went off. She said she took the gun out of her purse to threaten suicide and scare him.

The state contended that the shooting, which occurred in the front seat of the car, was done with premeditation.

She then drove in her own car to a secluded creek bank where she was found 20 hours later slumped in the car, near death from swallowing 75 sleeping pills in pineapple juice.

Mrs. Nicholas told the jury her love affair with Teel began in 1943, two years after she went to work for the E. J. Lilly Co. Teel later became executive vice president in charge of marketing at Lilly.

The Country Doctor Now Fares Better

PORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—How does a country doctor in Arkansas fare today compared with 80 years ago?

A whole lot better, says Dr. J. H. McCurry, who at 84 is still practicing at Cash near Jonesboro.

Dr. McCurry, here for a meeting of the Arkansas Medical Society, said he had to make his rounds on foot or horseback when he began his medical practice in Craighead County in 1877.

The country doctor of that day had few resources.

"It was almost impossible to get patients to the hospital," said Dr. McCurry. "We had to take care of whatever was wrong ourselves. And hardly any of the medicines used by doctors today were available before the turn of the century."

Dr. McCurry "wore out" two or three horses a day in making his rounds. When he wanted to cross the Cache River, he took a boat if possible but in emergencies his mount had to ford it.

In winter when the frozen ground was too slick for horse hoofs, Dr. McCurry struck out for his patients' houses on foot. Sometimes he had to plod half a dozen miles over snow and ice.

He has been making calls by automobile since 1913.

What about the fee situation in the earlier days?

"I was likely to get a barrel of soap grease or a basket of pumpkins for my payment," Dr. McCurry said with a smile.

Sometimes the patient didn't have enough food to spare, to say nothing of money. In that case Dr. McCurry just let the bill ride, but he treated such impoverished patients "as wholeheartedly as if they were paying me a lot of money."

In his 80 years as a general practitioner he has "done everything from delivering babies to pulling teeth," Dr. McCurry said.

Would he be a doctor again if he had the choice?

"I sure would," he said. "It's a great profession and anyone should be proud to be part of it. I didn't pay much attention to the hardships."

Bank Stabilization Bids Received

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Army Engineers yesterday received an apparent low bid of $236,200 from the Mississippi Valley Construction Co. of Memphis on an Arkansas River bank stabilization job.

Six other bids were received. Government estimate for the job was $291,360.

The job calls for construction of more than one mile of diking at 11 locations about 16 miles south of Little Rock.

The work also will straighten the river in preparation for navigation.

Invitation to Faubus Denied by Baylor

WACO, Tex. (AP)—Officials of Baylor University and two Young Democrats Clubs denied knowledge yesterday of an invitation to Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus to speak here Friday night.

But Don Johnson, of the Baylor Young Democrats said his organization "certainly did invite Gov. Faubus to Waco" and that the speech was cancelled because a date could not be arranged.

Dr. H. D. Cherry, a Baylor professor and executive committee member of the Texas Young Democrats, and officials of two local clubs denied knowledge of the invitation.

So did Dr. Monroe S. Carroll, university provost.

Faubus' office announced last week he would address the Texas Young Democrats in Waco as part of a Texas trip this weekend. Monday, the governor's office said the Waco speech was cancelled because a date could not be arranged.

Faubus still plans to speak in Marshall, Tex., Thursday and to appear at the Arkansas exhibit at the Dallas Trade Fair Friday. He was not available for comment on yesterday's developments at Waco.

Cherry said the Texas Young Democrats had "by resolution disapproved acts by Faubus in obstructing the supreme law of the land."

Faubus has been a center of controversy since he used National Guard troops in September, 1957, to block integration of Little Rock Central High School.

John P. O'Neal of the Tom Connally Political Club and Wayne Sweek of the McLennan County Young Democrats issued statements yesterday that neither they nor their organizations had invited Faubus to Waco.

Cherry said the Connally and McLennan clubs were the only two in Waco area to have their charters renewed at a recent state convention of Texas Young Democrats.

Johnson said the Baylor Young Democrats extended an invitation to Faubus about two months ago but the governor could not come on the date arranged.

"Later," Johnson said, "Faubus wrote that he could come Friday, but the letter came on such short notice we were unable to make arrangements for his appearance."

Capsule May Have Returned to Earth

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Pentagon said today it believes the capsule from the Discoverer II satellite was dropped successfully in the north polar region. There is some hope it may be recovered.

A brief announcement said that analysis of radio beacon and telemetry signals "indicates that the capsule did eject from the satellite as predicted."

The statement added that "several reports of visual sightings and radio contacts from the capsule are being carefully checked to determine the probable landing area in the polar region."

This indicated that hope exists that the nose cone package may be picked up.

The capsule was set to be ejected automatically when the satellite made its 17th orbit around the earth. That was about 7 o'clock Tuesday night.

A terse announcement said various radioed reports are being checked to determine the capsule's probable landing area in the polar region.

This was the package the Air Force had hoped to catch, aerially, near Hawaii. But malfunction of a timing device thwarted the plan.

Several other rocket shots crowded into the spot—both the satellite and missile variety—were less successful than the Discoverer, which was fired into a pole-to-pole orbit from Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., Monday.

Except for recovery of the capsule, a 1,000 to 1 chance even if everything worked right, the Discoverer performed well and produced important scientific information, the scientists reported.

The Air Force had hoped to snare the capsule as it floated down under a parachute near the Hawaiian Islands but a cranky timing device failed and the capsule was not ejected at the right time. This attempt was to have been on command from a radar station in the islands.

The little moon still contained a mechanism that automatically was to shoot out the capsule and fire its retro-rockets to slow it down enough to enter the atmosphere.

The point of return, however, was calculated to be far north of the range of Air Force planes which had been practicing to snag the parachute with dangling grappling devices.

Recovery of the capsule would have been an historic achievement. Satellites—both Soviet and American—have fallen back into the atmosphere but they burned up long before they reached the ground.

A Vanguard satellite attempt failed Monday night at Cape Canaveral, Fla., shortly after the successful Discoverer shot at the other end of the country.

Authorities said the second stage of the Vanguard rocket that was knocked off course by a severe jolt and failed to operate properly. The rocket plunged into the Atlantic.

In the missile field, a new kind of Atlas—first of the "D" series—corkscrewed off course at Cape Canaveral Tuesday and was destroyed in the air. It had been aimed at a target area 5,000 miles down the Atlantic firing range.

A faulty clamp, one of four that locks the rocket to the launching pad before firing, was blamed for the failure.

President in Tribute to Late Mr. Taft

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower dedicated a towering memorial today to the late Sen. Robert A. Taft. He praised Taft as a man who gave generously and unselfishly of himself "for the good of all America."

Eisenhower honored a former political rival and ally at ceremonies at the base of a 100-foot tall tower erected at the foot of Capitol Hill in memory of the Ohio senator.

Taft, Eisenhower said, was a liberal in championing individual rights and the symbol of conservatism in everything affecting the national economy.

Former President Herbert Hoover and high government officials also participated with Eisenhower in the dedication.

Hoover depicted Taft as a man who chose to die with his boots on rather than to desert his post. He called Taft "an official with a social conscience" and said: "He not only would not desert his post, he never deserted his people."

Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) arranged to "accompany the marble tower on behalf of Congress."

Eisenhower, in a brief prepared address, voiced his personal gratitude to Taft for "the priceless gift of friendship" and the wisdom and experience offered by the senator "whenever I needed him most."

To Eisenhower, Taft was the rival over whom the former general strode to the Republican presidential nomination in 1952. Taft also was the Republican leader in the Senate in the Eisenhower administration's infancy.

"All knew him as a commanding figure on Capitol Hill," Eisenhower said.

"To the people of the United States he was a liberal in his championship of individual rights and opportunity, but he was also shooting at human targets while in the cavalry. But this would be different. Three days ago he had not been a cabin burner. Perhaps three days from now he would be as capable with a gun as he had been with a torch used."

Some time after that Furlong notices that his hobbled horse had ceased galloping. Head high and ears lifted forward, the gray peered intently across the meadow.

Furlong then mounted and rode toward it, not sure what it was. Furlong had advanced another hundred yards when the batless head of a man appeared above the grass—a man who crawled on his hands and one knee and dragged a useless leg.

The gray spooked and attempted to whirl. Furlong fought him to a stand. The crawling man's face was obscured by long black hair that fell across his down-titled face; he came on in the desperate, slow-motion way of a wounded bug, oblivious of all else save the need for escape.

Dismounting and holding tightly to his nervous horse, Furlong asked: "What happened, friend?"

The man, who didn't seem to hear him, continued his methodical slow-motion crawling. The gray snorted and backed away, pulling Furlong with him; when Furlong looked at the man again he was lying face down in the grass.

As Furlong knelt beside the man, he peered at the gaunt, oddly pale face and identified it instantly.

This was Ike Rule. The thief Bonanza Beal had mentioned. Rule's eyes were closed. He was breathing hard through a slack-jawed mouth, and moaning softly.

"You awake, Ike?" There was no answer; no flicker of eyelids.

Furlong stood up and gave the ridge a questing appraisal. Rule had come from the east. No telling how far he had crawled, nor how near his pursuers might be. The thought came to Furlong that Veto's crew might have shot at Rule in error, thinking he had burned the linecamp. Sensing movement, Furlong glanced down at Rule. Ike's eyes were open and wildly staring — his right hand bringing up a gun.

the very symbol of informed and responsible conservatism in everything affecting the nation's economy. He was, by his own definition, a politician. An admiring nation now acknowledges that he was infinitely more.

In Taft's contribution to the nation, Hoover told if an unsuccessful visit he made to Washington July 1, 1953, in an effort to convince the Ohio senator he ought to return to New York Hospital for treatment of his illness. Taft died on July 31, that year, of cancer.

The former president, quoted Taft as telling him: "My friend, you know what is the matter with me. I know what is the matter with me. I am going to die with my boots on."

Medics Told Leukemia Rising Sharply

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—A sharp rise in this nation's leukemia cases may be linked to wider use of radiation, a blood specialist told the Arkansas Medical Society here yesterday.

Dr. William Damaskos of the New England Center Hospital at Boston said incidence of leukemia had doubled in the past 20 years.

"There are now more than 10,000 cases every year, but we don't know for sure that the reason is not better diagnostic methods," he said.

Leukemia results from the unrestrained growth of white blood cells.

Damaskos said ionizing radiation (X-rays, atomic fallout, etc.), certain chemicals, viruses and heredity are possible causes of the disease.

"People today are exposed to more X-rays, chemicals and medicines than ever before and this may be why leukemia seems to be increasing," Damaskos said.

"About all we can do now is to speculate on causes of the disease."

The Bureau of Narcotics spent $3,780,000 controlling drug traffic in fiscal year 1958.

Possible Lead to Vaccine for Leprosy

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—A possible lead towards developing a long-sought vaccine against leprosy — one of man's oldest scourges — was reported today.

A government researcher announced successful growth in test tube tissue culture of bacteria which causes leprosy in rats. He indicated that this might open one way to:

1. Producing a vaccine against the rat disease.

2. Perhaps ultimately developing a vaccine against the human malady.

Dr. Y. T. Chang of the National Institute of Arthritis and Metabolic Diseases and the American Leprosy Foundation, gave this outline in a report to the 43rd annual meeting of the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology.

The bacillus that causes human leprosy is one of the wildest and most elusive organisms of the germ world.

For many years, he said, researchers have attempted to maintain growth of the organism outside its natural host, the human body. Though it grows vigorously inside the body, it stops multiplying and soon dies if placed in an artificial environment.

Attempts to grow rat leprosy germs outside the living animal body have, until now, been tough.

Chang has come up with a cell culture in which the number of germs has increased seven times in seven weeks.

This is still not as fast as the germ multiplies inside the body, so attempts are being made to speed up the rate.

If these attempts are successful, said Chang, it may be possible to produce a vaccine against rat leprosy, just as the polio vaccine is produced from large cultures of polio virus. Such a vaccine might point the way to a similar preventive for the human disease.
